and more. Apprentices receive training in workforce development, career preparation, arts education, and life skills training, all while creating art and earning a stipend. Job Training activities include client meetings, open house events and public sales. In Life Skills training, youth learn effective communication skills, environmental stewardship, and fiscal literacy, as well as the importance of nutrition, good health, and personal safety.
An art therapist provides group sessions to improve their overall sense of well-being and their feeling of connection to their community and individual sessions, as needed. The art therapist has also provided career counseling assessments and sessions for apprentices to assist them in developing career goals. In the six-week summer program, youth work five hours a day, five days a week. Programs offered in the fall and spring are for 13 weeks after school and on Saturdays.
ArtWorks Enterprises (AWE) is our social venture that includes three enterprises - Boomerang Press, BoomerRacks, and BloomWorks. AWE provides revenue to help sustain the organization and to help young people develop life-changing employment skills. Boomerang Press/Media teaches cross-disciplinary skills in video, design, layout, and illustration through graphics and media services to clients. BoomerRacks creates bike racks and related works of art using up-cycled bike parts. BloomWorks focuses on sustainable development projects for the garden and public park and urban streetscapes by producing rain barrels, planters, landscape plans, and art from up-cycled materials.
ArtWorks' audience is underserved youth (ages 14 - 19) from the St. Louis region, who are at great risk for unemployment, low academic achievement, dropping out of school, and/or not pursuing post-secondary opportunities. In 2020, 89% of participants were considered "low income", with 28% meeting the threshold for "extremely low-income", as defined by Federal HUD guidelines. Although open to all students, most attend schools that lack the financial resources to provide access to quality arts and humanities programming.
ArtWorks is dedicated to helping bridge the learning gap of underserved youth through our unique job training and life skills education program. Our program uses the framework of 21st century skills (critical thinking, communication, collaboration, and creativity) to help underserved youth access opportunities in education and careers that might otherwise be missed.

In 2020, ArtWorks went through many external and internal changes. We had a shift in leadership with the retirement of our Executive Director after 20 years of service. We voted in a new Board Chair and worked with consultants to develop a new strategic plan while still producing a quality program focused on enriching the lives of youth.
Recognizing that technology and the workforce are ever-changing and the need to adapt to and be flexible in the highly technological world in which we are living is so important. We consistently evaluate our programming and develop best practices based on national data and labor trends to create contemporary training programs for the youth.
PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS: In total, St. Louis ArtWorks served more than 80 youth apprentices (some youth participated in more than one session for a total of 112) from St. Louis City and County in the Spring, Summer, and Fall programs. Due to COVID-19 restrictions and the need to ensure the safety and well-being of the staff and apprentices, ArtWorks adopted a hybrid program model of online and onsite programming and created numerous public art installations and artwork to be sold at ArtWorks' sales (postponed due to the pandemic). Staff conducted outreach through social media and distributing flyers to schools, community centers and other locations to recruit students for the upcoming programs. The number of participating youth was significantly less than the 200 youth typically served annually due to the pandemic.

Pt VI, Line 11b: The 990 draft was emailed to all board members for review during a comment period. Each member was requested to respond during that period with either an approval or with additions/corrections. Responses were then summarized and forwarded to the tax preparer for inclusion in the final return.

Pt VI, Line 19: The governing documents, 990's, conflict of interest policy, and financial statements are available upon request at the organization's office. The 990's are available on the Guidestar website.

Pt VI, Line 12c: Board members are required to sign annually an affirmation that they have read the conflict of interest policy and will abide by its guidelines. It is included in the orientation meeting for new members. Board members are proscribed from suggesting self-dealing contracts or suggesting contracts from which family members, associates, etc. would profit.

Pt VI, Line 15a: A board member reviewed the salaries of executive directors at comparably-sized, programmatically similar not-for-profits in St. Louis and of different types of programs as well. Compensation of executive directors of similar organizations in other cities was reviewed and taken into account also. A Guidestar review was undertaken for objective substantiation.

Pt VI, Line 15b: For staff other than the executive director, compensation was based on similar positions in metro area not-for-profits.

Other: Pt. VIII, line 8c - There is often a "loss" on this line (event revenue less expenses) due to several things - it's generally difficult to determine the FMV of a ticket to an event (the gross event revenue is on line 8a) and some of the costs of hosting an event - postage, printing, promotion, etc. - don't contribute to the value received by the attendees and so aren't reflected in the ticket FMV. In 2020, however, the annual event was held virtually due to the pandemic. Since the attendees did not receive anything of fair market value, all the revenue was considered contributions with the event expenses becoming the loss.

Other: Pt.XIII, line 2a - On a bi-monthly basis an outside CPA reviews the accounting transactions, makes entries as needed in the accounting software, determines that the account balances are correct at the previous month-end, and provides "preparation" (SSARS 21) financial statements, and acts as a consultant on other business matters from time to time.

Pt XII, Line 2c: The finance/executive committee is responsible for the oversight of the auditors' and outside CPA's work and for the selection of them.

Pt VIII: Line 6 - In 2020 there were several individuals/groups that rented ArtWork's space for events. Using a combination of hours and space used compared to the totals, the % of the rental was about 5%. Since the majority of the space(95%) is related to the organization's exempt purpose and is more than 85% threshold, the space is considered "substantially all" related to the exempt purpose. Therefore the net rental income is not Unrelated Business Taxable Income subject to 990-T reporting.
